GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

New York. July 21.—The stock market made a pretty good stand during the greater part of the day against scattered liquidation of the same kind as that of yesterday. But the slump in the United States Steel stocks at the end of the day cost the market about all the gains that had been achieved in the course of the day's trading. Other specialties scored losses of fairly sensational proportions, but they were with no such influence upon sentiment as the headlong downward plungs in the United States Steel stocks. The common soid at 22, and 7 2 preferred, with the quarterly dividend of 134 deducted since yesterday, sold at 70, making extreme declines 18/5 for the common. In the May pand the preferred at 69. Today's drop was in the face of open buying by banking interests which conducted the corporation's syndicate transactions.

The financial authorities of the corporation declined to be officially quoted as to the truth of the current rumor that the next dividend on the common was to be passed. The usual rumors circulated also that the urgent liquidation was due to financial embarrassment by this or the other important capitalist. But the market seemed to take there rumors with a good deal of equanimity and there was considerable absorption of standard railroad steeks, so that prices in many instances ruse at one time a point or more over last night. New York Central was in notable demand. There was a considerable absorption of standard railroad steeks, so that prices in many instances ruse at one time a point or more over last night. New York Central was in notable demand. There was a cond trade in oats and so more over last night. New York Central was in notable demand. There was a cond trade in oats and rowd on the exchange, which caused an impression that a considerable short interest had been built up in the stock. The shorts were an element in the buying at other points.

There was little in the day's news to explain the action of the market. The explain the action of the market. The explain the action of th

Wool Market.

Wool Market.

Boston, July 21.—Many woolen manufacturers fearing a situation somewhat similar to that which has confronted cotton mill men have come into the market of late for large supplies of raw material. Sales have been enormous, almost reaching the unusual total of 10,000,000 pounds last week. The market is gradually strengthening in tone, with prices steadily tending upward on all grades. The only weak point in the situation is the refuctance of manufacturers to advance the prices of goods. The new clip is fast disappearing from the west. In the territorial sections there is little that is desirable left, except in Montana. In that state large sales are being made every day and the latest advices state that the tendency of prices is upward. The top price of the season was reported with little, paid for a well-known clip by a Bos-
